

FLOTTMAN COMPANY NAMED A TRI-STATE FAMILY BUSINESS DECADE WINNER

The University of Cincinnati's Goering Center of Family and Private Business recently announced its Tri-State Business of the Decade winners and honored Flottman Company as one of the Decade Award winners. Over 180 family businesses in the tri-state were invited to participate in the competition. Forty-seven were chosen as finalists and reviewed by a panel of independent judges. The judges considered such criteria as successful transition from one generation to another, commitment to the future success of the family business through the use of advisory panels or business partners as well as significant accomplishments or obstacles overcome. Twelve Decade Winners were then selected from the forty-seven finalists.

Honored at the awards dinner were Tom Flottman, CEO, Sue Flottman Steller, President, and Peter Flottman, CFO, and VP of Operations and their families.

Flottman Company is a full-service printing company founded in 1921 and headquartered in Northern Kentucky. The company provides a wide array of printing services for the commercial printing market; it also specializes in pharmaceutical printing, manufacturing pharmaceutical inserts and outserts. The company is a privately held, family owned business that is currently run by the third generation of Flottmans.

The author of this piece is Sue Flottman Steller